

Parent University Series 2016-2017

Putting Your Best Foot Forward

Cultivating a Positive Digital Footprint

At D64, we teach and talk to students about digital citizenship. How does this apply to the larger world, not just our school experiences? How can you consider the impact your posts/shares/likes might have in the future? In this Parent University video on demand, we'll discuss how our digital actions might create a first – and lasting – impression. We'll also discuss ways to create a positive online culture for ourselves and the people we interact with on a global level. Join us with your student, and get the conversation started! You will be able to view the video discussion on your own time! This is geared towards families with students in grades 3-8.

Podcast video produced by:

D64 Instructional Technology Coaches

Tiffany Costa (Roosevelt), Rachel Labuz (Washington), Kevin Michael (Carpenter), Kara Pottinger (Emerson), Megan Preis (Lincoln), Elizabeth Rihtar (Field), Allison Sobotka (Franklin)

Save the Date!

On Wednesday, April 19th, 2017

...this online podcast video will be made available on D64's website and the link will be sent out to parents by email.

Image Credit: <https://drvcourt.com/category/digital-citizenship/>